Scovill® Brand Zippers

Stand Out From the Ordinary

In a market crowded with competing products, Scovill® brand zippers clearly stand out from the ordinary offering a wide range of construction types, base materials, tape colors, sizes and lengths, and stylish pull tab hardware.

Scovill® brand zippers are made to the same high quality standards as are Scovill's famous Duramark and Gripper snap fasteners that customers depend on and know so well. This concentration on meeting high quality standards insures consistent performance, and Scovill zippers simply work zip after zip.

Within the range available zipper types include closed-end, open-end, regular two-way, two-way open tail-to-tail with double top stops, and two-way closed head-to-head with double top stops. Base zipper teeth materials are brass and aluminum, as well as nylon coil, and molded plastic. There are many finish options with teeth materials depending on the type of material. The color options for tape offer many choices as standard, and custom color matching is available as an option.

Choices in materials, styles, colors, and finishes combined with stringent quality standards now make Scovill® brand zippers an effective option for the market. Zipper nominators and consuming customers now have a true choice in zippers with Scovill offering sales and support around the world as a recognized quality global supplier.

Find out why more and more apparel brands and retailers are now certifying Scovill® brand zippers.
